The European Union is made up of 28 Member States who have decided to gradually link together their know-how, resources and destinies. Together, during a period of enlargement of 50 years, they have built a zone of stability, democracy and sustainable development whilst maintaining cultural diversity, tolerance and individual freedoms. The European Union is committed to sharing its achievements and its values with countries and peoples beyond its borders. To this end the EU is active in Tajikistan since 1992 and provides approximately EUR 25 million annually in development assistance.

The international non-governmental organization Hilfswerk Austria International implements in equal partnership with regional organizations in Central Asia its third project as part of the “Central Asia - Invest” program of the European Union.

This series of projects, which have been implemented for the last five years by a joint team of six regional and international organizations, aims at Central Asia’s integration into the global economy by developing the fruit and vegetable processing sector as well as increasing the competitiveness and export capacity of SMEs.

WIFI - The Institute for Economic Promotion

The Institute for Economic Promotion (WIFI) is a department of the Austrian Federal Economic Chamber. With a market share of 20 percent, the WIFI is the largest training and adult education institute in Austria. Beside the training courses, WIFI’s task is to provide advice and consultancy to businesses and thereby helping companies cope with the challenges of structural change by providing the information they need about new technologies. WIFI is the spring board for new training methods and products, innovations and SME programs.

In 1990, WIFI started to export its vast experience in adult education, which led to the WIFI International Network, which provides further education programs throughout the CEE / SEE regions. The WIFI International Network benefits from the vast expertise of its mother organization and with which it not only addresses the specific needs of local SMEs, but also generally promotes entrepreneurship.
